Load in a list and the program will remove duplicates, find specific addresses, save an amount of addresses as a text file or a comma delimited file ready for pasting into your favourite email program. Program can handle huge lists. Simply load a second list to append it to the first. The list is always arranged alphabetically. Can search your lists and is very easy to use. ListMan Pro Limitation: The program is very slow when searching for duplicates and can only manage a maximum of 5000 addresses. Too heavy on resources to be used for large amounts of addresses. An E-mail address is only removed if it does not appear again in the current list. The program will not find duplicates if you delete or move them. Limitations: Windows 7 and Windows 8 only. Load a text file containing your list of email addresses into this program. Addresses in the list must be separated by commas, otherwise this program will simply process the file one address at a time. If an address in the file is not recognised, the program will ask you if it should attempt to download an email address list from the web. After the addresses have been loaded the following functions are available: 'Del' is a special command that will remove duplicates from the list, so this function can save you much time if you have many duplicates. 'Count' is a function that will count the number of addresses in the list, this is useful for comparing the number of addresses in the list to another file and seeing which list is bigger. 'Find' will search for the email address in the list, just type the email address in the search bar and the program will return the address if it is in the list. If the address is not in the list, the program will return the next address in the list. If there are no more addresses in the list, it will return nothing. 'Save' will save the addresses in the list as a text file (name.txt) or as a comma delimited file (name.csv) You can also 'Save' the addresses as a list separated by commas, separated by semicolons, named using names separated by colons, or named using column names and separated by semicolons. In each case the file can be loaded using your favourite email program. There are also the following options: You can choose the default delimiter used when saving the file, or to change the delimiter yourself. You can choose to save the file without any change to it, or to save the file with the existing name or with a new name. You can choose to remove the email address when saving or not. You can choose to replace a duplicate by adding the new address or not. You can choose to add one or more names to the file, separated by colons or semicolons. Version 5.0.0 adds the option to remove the first or the last address, and to change the existing file name. You can also choose to only find and remove specific addresses, or to only save them and not remove them. You can choose to only remove duplicates, or not. You can choose to replace a specific address by adding a new address. You can 2edc1e01e8

What's New In ListMan Pro?

1. Remove Duplicates: This will check your list of email addresses for duplicates, it will then allow you to add or remove the duplicate records. This is good for having multiple copies of a single email address, which can then be used for pasting into your favourite email program. 2. Find Specific Addresses: This will allow you to find one or more specific addresses in your list. It will even go further and highlight them. 3. Add Addresses as Text File: This will allow you to save a text file of the email addresses of the list you are working with. 4. Add Addresses as Comma Delimited File: This will save the addresses as a comma delimited file. 5. Load Other List: This will allow you to add the second list to your current list and perform the same operations as above. 6. Save the Lists: This will allow you to save the lists which you are working with. You can also save a text file or a comma delimited file. 7. Invert: This allows you to invert a set of addresses if you need to search by an email address rather than a name. 8. Delete and Move: This allows you to delete addresses and move them to a specific part of the list. 9. Reverse: This allows you to invert the list and move the addresses to a specific part of the list. Options • The format for the output text file is automatically saved if you save the file. If you don't then you can manually save it. • You can include the addresses which you do not wish to duplicate in your text file. • You can save your list in any of the following formats, they are defined in the preferences: • Comma Delimited File. • Text File • Xml • All of the above • You can also choose to save a list of Addresses to email as attachments (if the file size is under 5 MB). • You can save your output list as a text file or as a comma delimited file. • The program will exit after you save or load a file, or the settings are saved. • You can open any file, including text files and comma delimited files. • You can sort the list by clicking the column headings. You can also scroll through the list using the scrollbar. • You can select the range of the list using the scrollbar (selecting one column or a partial row). • You can open multiple lists. • You can change the background colour. • You can choose the number of rows displayed on the list. • You can choose the number of columns displayed on the list. • You can choose whether to display
